The mobile all-rounder for data capture and direct printing

The jetStamp® 1025 sense expands mobile direct printing with additional connection and integration options, allowing variable data to be transferred directly to the device. Compared to the standard jetStamp® 1025, the sense model enables more autonomous workflows for variable print content.

Using the connected barcode scanner, 1D and 2D codes can be read directly and automatically transferred into the print image. This allows information from work orders, delivery notes or existing barcodes to be printed directly onto items, packaging, documents or containers without an intermediate step.

In many applications, the jetStamp® 1025 sense can therefore replace a combination of barcode scanner, PC and label printer, integrating marking autonomously into the workflow.

In addition, external devices such as scales or measuring instruments can be connected via the sense interface. Captured values – for example weight information – are transferred directly and printed immediately onto delivery notes, product packaging or accompanying documents

This makes the jetStamp® 1025 sense particularly suitable for applications where variable data needs to be processed on the move, clearly and without an additional PC or label station. Multiple print images can be stored on the device and selected flexibly. Printing takes place directly at the workstation – on materials such as cardboard, paper, wood, plastic, metal or glass.
